Description of Services

This program allows United Way to connect over 100 non-profits, schools, churches and government agencies to keep track of resources given to our community and also take care of needs that may fall between the cracks. We will be able to collect demographic information for our funders and will be able to identify clients in need.

This service allows United Way to connect with low income families while preparing their taxes. We will be able to identify clients in need of credit counseling.

The United Way our Financial Partners, Community Partners and Government Agencies will provide classes, seminars and training to educate the low to moderate income family. United Way will provide financial education seminars, credit counseling, help obtain free credit reports, provide assistance to find employment and job retention training.

When United Way does not provide the service to aid families in boosting their monthly income, such as rent and utility assistance, SNAP, banking products, etc. We will refer our clients to the appropriate partner (do fund many of these programs).
